Grundsätze der Unternehmensführung und ALFI-Verhaltenskodex

Der Verwaltungsrat ist dafür verantwortlich, dass ein hohes Maß an Corporate Governance (Grundsätze der Unternehmensführung) eingehalten wird, und ist der Ansicht, dass der Fonds die Best Practices der luxemburgischen Fondsindustrie erfüllt hat. Insbesondere hat der Verwaltungsrat die Grundsätze des ALFI-Verhaltenskodex (der „Kodex“) übernommen, in dem die Grundsätze einer guten Unternehmensführung für luxemburgische Fonds festgelegt sind. Der Verwaltungsrat vertritt die Auffassung, dass der Fonds die Grundsätze des Kodex während des gesamten Geschäftsjahres in allen wesentlichen Aspekten befolgt hat.

Jahreskommentar zu den Finanzmärkten

USA

Im dritten Quartal 2021 verlangsamte sich die wirtschaftliche Erholung in den USA. Die Zinsen stiegen, während das reale Haushaltseinkommen aufgrund der hohen Inflation sank. Die wichtigsten Konjunkturindikatoren (ISM) deuteten auf ein fortgesetztes Unternehmenswachstum hin, das sich allerdings deutlich verlangsamte. Die Indikatoren zum Vertrauen der privaten Haushalte blieben unterdessen äußerst schwach. Besonders ernüchternd waren die Zahlen für den Immobiliensektor, der bekanntermaßen empfindlich auf die Entwicklung der Zinssätze reagiert. Auf der anderen Seite wurden weiterhin viele Arbeitsplätze geschaffen, die Arbeitslosenquote blieb niedrig und viele Arbeitnehmer, die während der Pandemie ihre Arbeitssuche aufgegeben hatten, kehrten auf den Arbeitsmarkt zurück. Die Inflation ging im Juli und August im Vergleich zum Juni leicht zurück, blieb jedoch auf einem sehr hohen Niveau (die Kerninflation stieg im August erneut an). Die US-Notenbank (Fed) setzte ihre geldpolitische Straffung fort (zwei Erhöhungen der Fed Funds Rate um 0,75 % im Juli und September) und machte ihre Absicht deutlich, Maßnahmen zur Inflationsbekämpfung Vorrang einzuräumen, selbst wenn dies negative Folgen für den Arbeitsmarkt haben sollte.

Im vierten Quartal beschleunigte sich die US-Wirtschaftstätigkeit erneut, nachdem Ende des dritten Quartals eine Verlangsamung verzeichnet worden war. Die monatlichen Daten und Konjunkturumfragen bestätigten die positive Dynamik im privaten Sektor, wobei insbesondere Industrie- und Dienstleistungsunternehmen eine deutliche Verbesserung des Geschäftsklimas meldeten. Die Produktionsmengen hingegen wurden weiterhin durch massive Unterbrechungen der Lieferketten und Engpässe bei Zwischenprodukten beeinträchtigt, auch wenn sich im vierten Quartal gewisse Anzeichen für eine Verbesserung bemerkbar machten. Nach einem Anstieg um 1,7 % im Oktober stiegen die Einzelhandelsumsätze im November erneut um 0,3 %, während die Industrieproduktion um 0,5 % zunahm. Die Arbeitslosenquote lag im November bei 4,2 %, gegenüber 4,6 % im Oktober, da sich die Lage auf dem Arbeitsmarkt weiter verbesserte. Die Inflation beschleunigte sich im November auf 6,8 % gegenüber dem Vorjahr, was auf Basiseffekte und vorübergehende Faktoren, aber auch auf eher strukturelle Ursachen zurückzuführen war. Jerome Powell wurde für eine zweite Amtszeit als Vorsitzender der US-Notenbank bestätigt. Im Dezember kündigte die US-Notenbank eine Verdoppelung des Tempos bei der Reduzierung ihrer Ankäufe von Vermögenswerten im Januar auf 30 Mrd. USD pro Monat an und stellte ein Ende der Nettokäufe im März in Aussicht.

Zu Beginn des ersten Quartals 2022 ließen die Wirtschaftsdaten im Januar aufgrund der Ausbreitung der Omikron-Variante eine Verlangsamung der Aktivität und der Mobilität erkennen. Ab Februar verbesserte sich die Situation jedoch. Die Indikatoren für das Geschäftsklima folgten demselben Trend. Die Industrieindikatoren allerdings deuteten auf eine Abschwächung hin, während sich der US-Arbeitsmarkt weiter festigte. Obwohl die Engpässe im Welthandel allmählich beseitigt wurden, blieb der Preisdruck aufgrund des erheblichen Ungleichgewichts zwischen Angebot und Nachfrage hoch. Umfragen zum Verbrauchervertrauen (z. B. die Verbraucherumfrage des Conference Board) belegten die Besorgnis über die künftige Wirtschaftslage, vermutlich aufgrund der stark steigenden Energiepreise und des Kriegs in der Ukraine. Der deutliche Anstieg der Inflationserwartungen der privaten Haushalte schlug sich in der Beschleunigung des Verbraucherpreisindex nieder, der im Februar im Jahresvergleich bei fast 8 % lag.

Im zweiten Quartal 2022 verlangsamte sich die US-Wirtschaft, was sich in einer Verschlechterung des Verbrauchervertrauens und einer hartnäckig hohen Inflation (die sich auf das verfügbare Einkommen auswirkt) zeigte, wobei die stärksten Effekte auf hohe Energie- und Dienstleistungskosten zurückzuführen waren. Im Mai erreichte die Verbraucherinflation den höchsten Stand der letzten 40 Jahre, sodass die US-Notenbank weiterhin unter Druck stand, auf ein Thema zu reagieren, das in dem Land inzwischen zu einem Politikum geworden ist, da Präsident Biden in diesem Jahr die Zwischenwahlen vor sich hat. Die Fed hob ihre Leitzinsen im Juni um 75 Basispunkte an, und es wurde erwartet, dass sie auf kurze Sicht an ihrem Straffungskurs festhalten würde. Der Druck auf das US-Wirtschaftswachstum nahm jedoch weiter zu, und der Einkaufsmanagerindex für das verarbeitende Gewerbe ging im Juni zurück. Infolgedessen wurde die Aufgabe der Fed angesichts ihres doppelten Mandats, Preisstabilität und Wirtschaftswachstum in Einklang zu bringen, immer schwieriger. Dank der starken Arbeitsmärkte und der niedrigen Arbeitslosenquoten entwickelte sich der Konsum insgesamt jedoch robust.

Eurozone

In der Eurozone wurde im dritten Quartal 2021 eine deutliche Verschlechterung des wirtschaftlichen Umfelds verzeichnet. Die Wirtschaft der Eurozone, die bereits mit einer Rekordinflation, einer restriktiven Geldpolitik und den Auswirkungen der Konjunkturabschwächung in China zu kämpfen hatte, wurde durch den starken Anstieg der Erdgaspreise nach dem drastischen Rückgang russischer Lieferungen zusätzlich belastet. Zum Ende des Quartals kamen angesichts der Energiekrise Befürchtungen über eine drohende Rezession in der Eurozone auf. Die Indikatoren für das Geschäftsklima rutschten in den leicht negativen Bereich ab, während die Indikatoren zum Vertrauen der privaten Haushalte, die sich bereits auf einem Rekordtief bewegten, weiter abwärts tendierten. Der Arbeitsmarkt hingegen blieb in guter Verfassung, und die Arbeitslosenquote erreichte den niedrigsten Stand seit der Gründung der Eurozone. Die Inflation stieg weiter an und erreichte im September 2021 die Schwelle von 10 %. Nachdem die Europäische Zentralbank (EZB) ihre Leitzinsen im Juli um 0,50 % angehoben hatte (dies war die erste Erhöhung seit 2011), nahm sie im September eine weitere Erhöhung um 0,75 % vor. Die EZB signalisierte ihre Absicht, diesen Aufwärtszyklus zur Bekämpfung der Inflation fortzusetzen, auch wenn sich die Wachstumsaussichten verschlechterten.

Die Wirtschaftstätigkeit in der Eurozone verlangsamte sich am Ende des vierten Quartals, wie die monatlichen Zahlen und Wirtschaftsumfragen bestätigten, was auf den starken Anstieg der Covid-19-Fälle zurückzuführen war. Die Unterbrechung der Lieferketten belastete die Industrieproduktion weiterhin stark, ebenso wie die Verknappung bei Vorprodukten und der starke Aufwärtsdruck auf die Preise. Im Laufe des vierten Quartals zeichnete sich jedoch in der gesamten Eurozone eine mögliche Entspannung ab. Die Einzelhandelsumsätze stiegen im Oktober um 0,2 % (+1,4 % gegenüber dem Vorjahr), während die Industrieproduktion um 1,1 % (+3,3 % gegenüber dem Vorjahr) zunahm. Die Verbesserung auf dem Arbeitsmarkt setzte sich im vierten Quartal fort: Die Arbeitslosenquote sank von 7,4 % im September auf 7,3 % im Oktober. Die Inflation beschleunigte sich im November auf 4,9 %, was auf Basiseffekte, erhebliche Beeinträchtigungen des internationalen Handels, eine wieder anziehende Nachfrage und einen starken Aufwärtsbeitrag der Energiepreise zurückzuführen war. Die EZB kündigte eine deutliche Reduzierung ihrer Ankäufe an: Das Pandemie-Notkaufprogramm werde im ersten Quartal 2022 „mit einem geringeren Tempo als im vorangegangenen Quartal“ fortgesetzt und dann im März 2022 auslaufen; auch das Programm zum Ankauf von Vermögenswerten solle dann schrittweise reduziert werden.

Die Ende Januar veröffentlichten Zahlen zur Entwicklung des Bruttoinlandsprodukts (BIP) in der Eurozone ließen für das vierte Quartal 2021 eine deutliche Verlangsamung des Wirtschaftswachstums in der Region erkennen: In Deutschland ging das BIP zurück, während das BIP in Frankreich, Spanien und Italien deutlich weniger wuchs als im dritten Quartal. Die Zahlen für das erste Quartal 2022 belegten eine weitere Verlangsamung der Aktivitätsniveaus gleich zu Beginn des Jahres aufgrund der Verbreitung der Omikron-Variante. Ab Mitte Januar deuteten die Unternehmens- und Verbraucherumfragen sowie die Mobilitätsdaten jedoch wieder auf eine deutliche Verbesserung hin. Die PMI-Indizes zeigten, dass insbesondere der Dienstleistungssektor im Januar Einbußen hinnehmen musste und sich im Februar erholte, während der Industriesektor stabiler blieb. Im März kam es jedoch aufgrund des Kriegs in der Ukraine zu einer weiteren Verschlechterung: Der Einkaufsmanagerindex für das verarbeitende Gewerbe erreichte mit 56,5 den niedrigsten Stand der letzten 14 Monate. Die Verbesserung der Arbeitsmarktlage setzte sich fort, aber die Inflation stellte ein zunehmendes Problem für die privaten Haushalte dar. Der Verbraucherpreisindex erreichte immer neue Höchststände, da die Energiepreise weiter anstiegen. Steigende Rohstoffpreise und die aufgrund des Kriegs in der Ukraine verhängten Sanktionen erhöhten das Risiko einer Stagflation im Euroraum erheblich, so dass eine Rezession und eine dauerhafte Inflation von über 5 % ein plausibles Szenario darstellten.

Im zweiten Quartal 2022 verstärkten sich die Stagflationsängste in der Eurozone, nachdem die Preise gestiegen und die Wachstumsaussichten unter Druck geraten waren, was durch geopolitische Spannungen und die Entscheidung Russlands, die Gaslieferungen zu unterbrechen, noch verschärft wurde. Während die Staats- und Regierungschefs weltweit über Möglichkeiten diskutierten, sich langfristig vom russischen Gas zu lösen und die Verteidigungslinien in Osteuropa zu stärken, wurden die kurzfristigen Konsequenzen immer deutlicher. Während der jüngste zusammenfassende Einkaufsmanagerindex für die Eurozone den niedrigsten Stand seit mehr als einem Jahr erreichte, stiegen die Verbraucherpreise im Juni um 8,6 % (im Jahresvergleich). Die Auswirkungen dieses Rückgangs der Kaufkraft machten sich auch in der französischen Politik bemerkbar. Präsident Macron verlor bei der zweiten Wahlrunde seine Mehrheit. Andererseits wurde es für die EZB immer schwieriger, ein Gleichgewicht zwischen der Kontrolle der Inflation (die teilweise durch angebotsseitige Beschränkungen verursacht wurde) und der Verhinderung einer Fragmentierung innerhalb der EU zu finden. Letztlich beschloss die EZB, die Nettokäufe von Vermögenswerten im Rahmen ihres Wertpapierkaufprogramms zu beenden und gleichzeitig ein neues Instrument zur Bekämpfung der Fragmentierung einzurichten.

Schwellenländer

In China fiel das Wirtschaftswachstum im zweiten Quartal 2021 aufgrund der Covid-Beschränkungen zwar schwach aus, im Sommer 2021 schien es jedoch wieder an Fahrt zu gewinnen, da die Maßnahmen zur Eindämmung der Pandemie ebenso wie die Geld- und Finanzpolitik gelockert wurden. Die chinesischen Behörden kündigten allerdings im Vorfeld des Mitte Oktober geplanten Parteikongresses weitere Einschränkungen der Bewegungsfreiheit an. Für die übrigen Schwellenländer war das dritte Quartal 2021 insgesamt von Abwärtskorrekturen der Wachstumsaussichten geprägt. Dies geschah vor dem Hintergrund i) einer hohen Inflation und einer Verschärfung der globalen und inländischen monetären Bedingungen, die sich zunehmend auf die Binnennachfrage auswirkten, ii) einer Verlangsamung des Welthandels sowie iii) Prognosen über eine Rezession in der Eurozone und ein unerwartet schwaches Wachstum in den USA. Aufgrund der europäischen Energiekrise und der steigenden Preise schien die wirtschaftliche Abkühlung in Mittel- und Osteuropa stärker auszufallen als in Lateinamerika. Die wirtschaftliche Lage in Asien blieb stabil. Die Inflationszahlen hingegen waren sehr hoch und insgesamt steigend, auch wenn in einigen Ländern wie Brasilien eine gewisse Stabilisierung oder ein Rückgang zu verzeichnen war. Wenig überraschend setzten die Zentralbanken der Schwellenländer ihre Zinserhöhungen fort (mit Ausnahme von Russland und der Türkei), und auch die Nachzügler (Thailand, Indonesien usw.) schlossen sich schließlich dem Trend an. Während sich in Asien der Spielraum für Zinserhöhungen vergrößert hat, könnte in anderen Schwellenländern (Brasilien, Ungarn, Tschechische Republik usw.) das Ende des Zyklus erreicht worden sein. In der Tschechischen Republik und in Ungarn lag die Inflation jedoch weiterhin im zweistelligen Bereich.

Der Ausblick für die Schwellenländer trübte sich im vierten Quartal 2021 und im ersten Quartal 2022 weiter ein, auch wenn der Abstand zu den Industrieländern für die Schwellenländer günstig blieb. Die chinesische Wirtschaft, die unter den zu Beginn des vierten Quartals auferlegten politischen Beschränkungen gelitten hatte, verzeichnete eine leichte Erholung. Zum Jahresende überraschten die politischen Entscheidungsträger in China mit der neuerlichen Einführung einer weitgehend lockeren Geldpolitik (durch eine Senkung des Mindestreservesatzes um 50 Basispunkte). Zudem erklärten sie, dass Wachstumsstabilität auf Basis der Binnennachfrage den Schwerpunkt ihrer Politik im Jahr 2022 bilden werde. Mit Ausnahme Asiens, wo der Inflationsdruck eingedämmt werden konnte, bewegten sich die Inflationszahlen nach wie vor auf sehr hohem Niveau und lagen in einigen Ländern deutlich über den Zielvorgaben der Zentralbanken, so dass diese gezwungen waren, ihre restriktive Geldpolitik fortzusetzen oder zu verschärfen. Steigende Energie-, Öl- und Lebensmittelpreise sowie Unterbrechungen der Lieferketten blieben die Hauptursachen für diese hohen Inflationsraten. Zusätzlich verstärkt wurde dieser Inflationsdruck durch inländische Faktoren wie steigende Immobilienpreise und Löhne, eine Abwertung von Währungen usw. Zum Ende des Berichtszeitraums kam aufgrund der raschen Ausbreitung der Omikron-Variante weitere Unsicherheit auf. Einige Länder führten erneut Gesundheitsmaßnahmen ein, die die Bewegungsfreiheit der Menschen einschränkten.

Im zweiten Quartal 2022 gestalteten sich die wirtschaftlichen Rahmenbedingungen in den Schwellenländern uneinheitlich, wobei die Inflation und die Politik der Zentralbanken im Mittelpunkt des Interesses standen. In China wirkte sich die Null-Toleranz-Politik der Regierung bei der Bekämpfung der Pandemie negativ auf die Wirtschaftstätigkeit aus. Infolgedessen senkte die chinesische Zentralbank im Mai die Leitzinsen, um das Wachstum zu stützen. Der Einkaufsmanagerindex für das verarbeitende Gewerbe fiel im Juni zwar gut aus, die Wachstumsaussichten für China wurden jedoch nach wie vor durch die Covid-Politik des Landes getrübt. Auf der anderen Seite hob die Reserve Bank of India ihre Leitzinsen im Juni um 50 Basispunkte an, um die Inflation unter Kontrolle zu bringen. Lateinamerikanische Exportländer profitierten unterdessen von den hohen Rohstoffpreisen, hatten aber weiterhin mit einer anhaltenden Inflation zu kämpfen. In Brasilien wurden neben der Straffung der Geldpolitik auch fiskalpolitische Unterstützungsmaßnahmen ergriffen, um die Auswirkungen der hohen Preise auszugleichen. Geopolitische Entwicklungen und der Einmarsch Russlands in die Ukraine wirkten sich weiterhin auf die Kosten für Lebensmittel und Rohstoffe in den osteuropäischen Ländern aus. Unterdessen senkte die russische Zentralbank ihre Leitzinsen mehrfach, um die unter den westlichen Sanktionen leidende russische Wirtschaft zu retten. In der Türkei hingegen versprach die politische Führung, eine unorthodoxe Politik zu verfolgen, um die Preise unter Kontrolle zu bringen.
